GIA Scholarship Instructions and Information

GIA now offers scholarships during two application periods each year for its Gemology and Jewelry Manufacturing Arts programs, courses, and lab classes.

Applications received between June 15 and October 30, 2011 will be considered for scholarships that can be applied toward on-campus or Distance Education eLearning programs and courses or lab classes with start dates for the upcoming calendar year. Applications received between March 1 and April 30, 2012 will be considered for scholarships that take place during the second half of that calendar year.

Please complete only one original application and submit it along with your letter of recommendation for consideration during the current scholarship application period. Applications received outside this period are not eligible for consideration.

The following information and instructions will guide you through the process and help you accurately complete your application. You may also visit the GIA website at www.gia.edu/scholarships

- Letter of Recommendation: In addition to answering the questions on the application, applicants must submit at least one original letter of recommendation from an employer who is a current or past member of the jewelry industry. The letter must be submitted as a PDF file, as an original letter, or as an email on the sender's company email account. If the letter of recommendation is submitted as a PDF file or an original letter, it must be on business letterhead, identifying the company or professional organization to which the author belongs. The letter should explain why the applicant is being recommended as a scholarship recipient and why the author believes the applicant will be successful in GIA's educational programs. A former employer or college professor may write the letter of recommendation if there is no history of employment in the jewelry industry. GIA policy does not allow GIA faculty or staff to write letters of recommendation. A letter of recommendation from parents or relatives will not be considered.
- Applications with incomplete or missing information, such as income and asset information, essay, or letter of recommendation, will be disqualified. Once your completed application is received, you will receive a confirmation email from GIA.
- All GIA Scholarship awards are applied directly to the recipient's GIA tuition account. Cash funds are not released directly to the student. Scholarship recipients are responsible for any tax liabilities that may apply.
- Scholarship awards may only be applied to 2012 tuition and fees and are for new GIA enrollments only. 2011 courses or programs are not eligible for a scholarship award.
- GIA staff and their immediate family members are not eligible for GIA Scholarship awards.
- Each applicant must fully disclose any business relationship he/she has with GIA, including any relationship as a client of the GIA Laboratory.
- Submitting your Application: While submitting your completed application and letter of recommendation online is the preferred method of receipt by GIA, you may also submit your application by postal mail or fax.
  - Online: Use the attached writeable and savable PDF format. Please complete, save, and submit your electronic application along with the letter of recommendation attached to the same email. If applying to study at an U.S. campus, submit your completed application and letter of recommendation to scholarship@gia.edu and reference your last, then first name, followed by 2012 Scholarship Application in the email subject line.
